PMLA POLICY

POLICIES AND PROCEDURE FOR PREVENTION OF MONEY LAUNDERING

(Issued as per the requirements of the PMLA Act 2002)

These policies and procedures apply to all staff of K. A. Gunderia & Co.. hereinafter referred to as "firm".

Principal Officer : Amit Gunderia.

This modified policy pursuant to 'Prevention of Money Laundering Act',2002 (PMLA) is to effectively prohibit and actively prevent money laundering and any activity that facilitates money laundering or the funding of terrorist or criminal activities or flow of illegal money or hiding money to avoid paying taxes in accordance with the SEBI Circular no CIR/MIRSD/L/2014 dated 12.03.2014.

What is money laundering and terrorist financing?

Money laundering is the process by which criminals attempt to conceal the nature, location or ownership of the proceeds of their criminal activities. If they are successful in converting "dirty" money into "clean" money, the process allows them to maintain control over these proceeds and, ultimately, to provide a legitimate cover for their source of wealth. Criminal activities are not restricted just to drug trafficking or terrorist activity. Nowadays, money laundering and other related laws cover the proceeds of all crime, including organized crime, extortion, corruption, theft, fraud, criminal deception, tax evasion and many others, no matter how small.

A very wide variety of methods are used to launder money. There are no hard and fast rules as to how money laundering occurs, the only real limitations being the imagination of the money launderer and his perceptions of the risks of being caught. Methods range from passing money through a complex international web of legitimate businesses and "shell" companies, to the purchase and resale of a luxury item.

Derivatives have been used by launderers as they offer a convenient and effective way of distancing criminal proceeds from their pursuit by law enforcement. There are of course many crimes where the initial proceeds take the form of cash. However, there are also many crimes, particularly the more sophisticated ones, where cash is either not involved or has already been converted into the underlying commodities or financial instruments to which derivatives are related.

Terrorist financing can be of a very different nature. Terrorist operations frequently require only very small amounts of money and the level of sophistication of many terrorist organizations is quite low, monies being raised from "charitable" donations, levies on members of terrorist organizations, extortion rackets, etc. Others are much more sophisticated and involve real estate, underground banking, and abuse of legitimate companies and markets.

PREVENTION OF MONEY LAUNDERING ACT, 2002 AND RELEVANT STATUTORY GUIDELINES

The Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 (PMLA 2002) forms the core of the legal framework put in place by India to combat money laundering. PMLA 2002 and the Rules notified there under came into force with effect from July 1, 2005. Director, FIU-IND and Director (Enforcement) have been conferred with exclusive and concurrent powers under relevant sections of the Act to implement the provisions of the Act.

1. Client Due Diligence (CDD)

The Firm's CDD measures shall comprise the following:

- a. Obtaining sufficient information in order to identify persons who beneficially own or control the securities account. Whenever it is apparent that the securities acquired or maintained through an account are beneficially owned by a party other than the client, that party shall be identified using client identification and verification procedures. The beneficial owner is the natural person or persons who ultimately own, control or influence a client and/or person whose behalf a transaction is being conducted. It also incorporates those persons who exercise ultimate effective control over a legal person or arrangement.
- b. Verify the client's identity using reliable, independent source documents, data or information;
- c. Identify beneficial ownership and control, i.e. determine which individual(s) ultimately own(s) or control(s) the client and/or the person on whose behalf a transaction is being conducted;
- d. Verify the identity of the beneficial owner of the client and/or the person on whose behalf a transaction is being conducted, corroborating the information provided in relation to (c); (e) Understand the ownership and control structure of the client;
- e. Conduct ongoing due diligence and scrutiny, i.e. Perform ongoing scrutiny of the transactions and account throughout the course of the business relationship to ensure that the transactions being conducted are consistent with our knowledge of the client, its business and risk profile, taking into account, where necessary, the client's source of funds; and
- f. We shall periodically update all documents, data or information of all clients and beneficial owners collected under the CDD process.

The SEBI KRA/ CKYC process shall followed at all times as applicable

2. Policy for acceptance of clients:

The following safeguards are to be followed while accepting the clients:

- a. No account is opened in a fictitious / benami name or on an anonymous basis.
- b. Factors of risk perception (in terms of monitoring suspicious transactions) of the client are clearly defined having regard to clients' location (registered office address, correspondence addresses and other addresses if applicable), nature of business activity, trading turnover etc. and manner of making payment for transactions undertaken. The parameters shall enable classification of clients into low, medium and high risk. Clients of special category may, if necessary, be classified even higher. Such clients require higher degree of due diligence and regular update of Know Your Client (KYC) profile.
- c. Documentation requirements and other information shall be collected in respect of different classes of clients depending on the perceived risk and having regard to the requirements of Rule 9 of the PML Rules, Directives and Circulars issued by SEBI from time to time.
- d. We shall ensure that an account is not opened where we are unable to apply appropriate CDD measures / KYC policies. This shall applicable in cases where it is not possible to ascertain the identity of the client, or the information provided to us is suspected to be not genuine, or there is perceived non co-operation of the client in providing full and complete information. We shall not continue to do business with such a person and file a suspicious activity report. It shall also evaluate whether there is suspicious trading in determining whether to freeze or close the account. We shall be cautious to ensure that it does not return securities of money that may be from suspicious trades. However, we shall consult the relevant authorities in determining what action it shall take when it suspects suspicious trading.
- e. The circumstances under which the client is permitted to act on behalf of another person / entity shall be clearly laid down. It shall be specified in what manner the account shall be operated, transaction limits for the operation, additional authority required for transactions exceeding a specified quantity/value and other appropriate details. the agent is acting shall be clearly laid down. Adequate verification of a person's authority to act on behalf of the client shall also be carried out.

- f. Necessary checks and balance to be put into place before opening an account so as to ensure that the identity of the client does not match with any person having known criminal background or is not banned in any other manner, whether in terms of criminal or civil proceedings by any enforcement agency worldwide.
- g. The CDD process shall necessarily be revisited when there are suspicions of money laundering or financing of terrorism (ML/FT).

3. Risk-based Approach

It is generally recognized that certain clients may be of a higher or lower risk category depending on the circumstances such as the client's background, type of business relationship or transaction etc. As such, we shall apply each of the client due diligence measures on a risk sensitive basis. The basic principle enshrined in this approach is that we shall adopt an enhanced client due diligence process for higher risk categories of clients. Conversely, a simplified client due diligence process may be adopted for lower risk categories of clients. In line with the risk-based approach, the type and amount of identification information and documents that we shall obtain necessarily depend on the risk category of a particular client. Further, low risk provisions shall not apply when there are suspicions of ML/FT or when other factors give rise to a belief that the customer does not in fact pose a low risk.

4. Clients of special category (CSC):

Such clients include the following.

- i. Non resident clients
- ii. High net-worth clients
- iii. Trust, Charities, Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs) and organizations receiving donations
- iv. Companies having close family shareholdings or beneficial ownership
- v. Politically Exposed Persons (PEP) are individuals who are or have been entrusted with prominent public functions in a foreign country, e.g., Heads of States or of Governments, senior politicians, senior government/judicial/military officers, senior executives of state-owned corporations, important political party officials, etc. The additional norms applicable to PEP as contained in the subsequent para of this policy shall also be applied to the accounts of the family members or close relatives of PEPs.
- vi. Companies offering foreign exchange offerings
- vii. Clients in high risk countries where existence / effectiveness of money laundering controls is suspect, where there is unusual banking secrecy, countries active in narcotics production, countries where corruption (as per Transparency International Corruption Perception Index) is highly prevalent, countries against which government sanctions are applied, countries reputed to be any of the following – Havens/ sponsors of international terrorism, offshore financial centers, tax havens, countries where fraud is highly prevalent. While dealing with clients in high risk countries where the existence/effectiveness of money laundering control is suspect, we, apart from being guided by the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) statements that identify countries that do not or insufficiently apply the FATF Recommendations, published by the FATF on its website (www.fatf-gafi.org), shall also independently access and consider other publicly available information.
- viii. Non face to face clients
- ix. Clients with dubious reputation as per public information available etc.

The above mentioned list is only illustrative and we shall exercise independent judgment to ascertain whether any other set of clients shall be classified as CSC or not.

5. Client identification procedure

We shall be in compliance with the following requirements while putting in place a Client Identification Procedure

- a. We shall proactively put in place appropriate risk management systems to determine whether their client or potential client or the beneficial owner of such client is a politically exposed person. Such procedures shall include seeking relevant information from the client, referring to publicly available

Further, we shall conduct ongoing due diligence where it notices inconsistencies in the information provided. The underlying objective shall be to follow the requirements enshrined in the PMLA, SEBI Act and Regulations, directives and circulars issued thereunder so that we are aware of the clients on whose behalf we are dealing.

Further no exemption from carrying out CDD exists in respect of any category of clients. In other words, there shall be no minimum investment threshold/ category-wise exemption available for carrying out CDD measures by us. This shall be strictly implemented by us.
